EXPENSES.

For the purpose of this article, I have taken the trouble to make a list of the expenses of a man who has been in the habit of spending his money in a certain way. The list is not intended to be a guide for others, but rather a record of his own habits. It is a list of the things that he has bought, and the money that he has spent on them. It is a list of the things that he has bought, and the money that he has spent on them. It is a list of the things that he has bought, and the money that he has spent on them.
